

The Anthony Baines Memorial Prize 2010

The Galpin Society confers the twelfth
Anthony Baines Memorial Prize on

Renato Meucci

Distinguished organologist, curator, author and lecturer

Professor Meucci commenced his musical career by studying guitar and horn at the Conservatories in Rome and Milan before himself going on to teach in the Conservatories of Milan, Vicenza, Perugia and Novara. His first professorial post in organology was at the University of Parma and later at the University of Milan. He has acted as consultant to the three major Italian musical instrument museums in Rome, Milan and Florence and also to the Association of Italian Violin Making in Cremona. The breadth of his interests and knowledge is outstanding, encompassing history, archaeology, iconography and performance practice in addition to almost all types of musical instruments, all topics on which he has written extensively.
